The Gospel and second reading for this Fifth Sunday of Easter emphasize the need for us to remain in Christ, and he in us. This shared life finds expression in the image of the one vine and many branches. We become living branches of the vine, members of the Body of Christ through baptism, Eucharist, and confirmation, sacraments of sharing God's own life. The First Letter of John describes the fruit of this vine as active love of neighbor: "And his commandment is this: we should believe ... and love one another" (1 John 3:23). Our first reading from Acts shows example someone who shares in Christ's life in the person of Saint Paul. Paul's fearless witness, even at the risk of his life, is proof to everyone that the risen Lord's Spirit truly fills him with life and is bearing fruit in him.

Reflections

Today’s Gospel reading is taken from the middle of the Last Supper discourse. Jesus speaks about his relationship to his disciples. In his metaphor of the vine and the branches, Jesus is referencing the Hebrew Scriptures. In the Hebrew Scriptures, Israel is the vineyard. One of the primary themes of John’s Gospel is to show Jesus to be the fulfillment of God’s promise to Israel. In this passage, Jesus teaches his disciples that his relationship with them will not end after his death; he will remain with them always. This unity between Jesus and his disciples is the basis for their ability to continue to do the work that he began. Similarly, Jesus’ presence with us through the Gift of the Holy Spirit enables us to continue the work of love and reconciliation that he began. We observe many people who act in ways that show their commitment to serve their neighbor. Christians and non-Christians feed the hungry, care for the sick, shelter the homeless, and give alms to the poor. These actions become acts of Christian discipleship when they are motivated by our relationship with Jesus. Whatever the immediate results, Jesus promises us that these actions will bear fruit when we understand them in his name.

MOSAIC TV ON YOUNG CATHOLICS AND DIGITAL COMMUNICATION

It is the age of digital communication. The devices that receive and send messages are powerful and portable, we have them in our hand, our pockets and our homes, the messaging is ceaseless and seductive and the flow of information (good or bad) is practically infinite. Young people especially seem to “live on their devices.” On this episode Mosaic, our guest expert is Samantha Yee, a young writer and editor, student and scholar, who is already a veteran professional, creating digital communications for Catholic groups. As she says “if young people are living on the internet, that’s where we have to reach them.” Samantha discusses how she and associated networks of young Catholics live the faith and teach the faith online. This program will be aired on Sunday, May 6th at 5:30am, KPIX Television, Channel 5, CBS Bay Area or go to sfarch.org/mosaic-tv.

WORKSHOPS FOR CATECHISTS: HOW PARENTS AN FORM CHILDREN IN FAITH

“Growing Up Catholic” offers free Spring 2018 workshops in the Bay area for pastoral leaders. These workshops are perfect for pastors, pastoral associates, directors of religious education, or other parish leaders who want to learn how to ensure that the Catholic faith is passed down to the next generation. The numbers don’t lie: on the whole, the faith is not being effectively passed down to younger generations. The key is: the parents. The faith formation for every child is found in the faith of his or her parents. Free workshops at Bay Area churches are in April, May and June, and are highly recommended by the Archdiocesan Office of Faith Formation. Learn what help parents most need; get practical tools; develop a formation plan to empower your families. For more information. Please call Paul Canavese at 844.727.8672.
