The prophet Jeremiah prophesies the end of the Babylonian exile. He describes how the weak and sorrowful people now return with joy. These are the scattered people of God: the blind and the lame, the mothers and pregnant women. They shall be led along an easy road so that no one will stumble. The Lord's kindness and mercy are on all these weak and broken people. Here and in Psalm 126 we find the most lovely poetic images of God's love and care for us. "Those that sow in tears I shall reap rejoicing. Although they go forth weeping, I carrying the seed to be sown, I they shall come back rejoicing, I carrying their sheaves" (Psalm 126:5-6). Although God had to punish Israel for their many sins, God never forgot them, scattered as they were, and brings them all back to the land of their ancestors, there to flourish and be joyful again. We can see in this the hope and the promise of our own redemption, gathered from the four corners of the earth into the great banquet of God.

Today's Gospel text about Bartimaeus, the blind beggar, who received his sight by merely trusting and believing that Jesus could wield God's power to save him, is a parallel to what Jeremiah predicted. It would indeed be God's power to save that makes Bartimaeus a whole (understand able to see) person. Bartimaeus sought to see. He knew that as a blind man he was missing much of life. If he had been blind from birth, chances are that society presumed that he was a significant sinner for which God had purposely blinded him. And, because of his blindness, he would have been reduced to begging, and possibly even never allowed to enter into marriage so as to have been deprived of a family like other "healthy" believers as a punishment for his presumed sinfulness. Blindness was a serious and severe burden in ancient times in the Jewish culture. Bartimaeus was not presumed to be a hero in this episode. But, his faith in Jesus as “Son of David” was what reveals him to be deserving to see. Sighted here is both the powerful gift given by Jesus, but it is also a metaphor for what Jesus and his Gospel message offer to all who embrace the Gospel. None can appreciate I fully until and unless God's power allows it. Indeed, Jesus would often sound like it was God's will that it was God's will and desire that each and every human person have God's gift of sight and life. In Mark's Gospel narrative, this story of the giving of sight to Bartimaeus marks the end of the middle three chapters which begin with Jesus also giving sight to a blind man and which includes three predictions by Jesus of his own passion, death, and resurrection. Mark's literary strategy hints that only those who embrace the Christological role of Jesus as the Messiah who would suffer and give his life AND who also embrace his Gospel of the Kingdom of God, would genuinely be able to see (understand "appreciate fully") the life which God offers to everyone.

El profeta Jeremías anuncia el fin del exilio en Babilonia. Describe como los débiles y los tristes ahora regresan con alegría. Este es el pueblo dispersado de Dios: los ciegos y cojos; preñadas y paridas. Serán guiados por un camino llano para que nadie tropiece. La bondad y misericordia del Señor están con este pueblo débil y deshecho. Aquí y en el Salmo 126 (125) encontramos imágenes poéticas extremadamente hermosas del amor y cuidado que Dios tiene por nosotros. "Los que sembraran con lágrimas, cosechan entre cantares. Al ir, iba llorando, I llevando la semilla; I al volver, vuelve cantando, I trayendo sus gavi llas" (Salmo 126[125]:5-6). Si bien Dios tuvo que castigar a Israel por sus muchos pecados, nunca se olvidó de ellos aun cuando estaban dispersos, y los llevo de regreso a la tierra de sus ancestros para que prosperaran y fueran felices de nuevo. En esto encontramos la esperanza y la promesa de nuestra propia redención al reunirnos, desde todos los rincones del mundo, para celebrar el gran banquete de Dios.

El texto del Evangelio de hoy sobre Bartimeo, el mendigo ciego, que recibió su vista simplemente por confiar y creer que Jesús podía ejercer el poder de Dios para salvarlo, es un paralelo a lo que Jeremías predijo. De hecho, sería el poder de Dios para salvar lo que convierte a Bartimeo en una persona (entendible, capaz de ver). Bartimeo buscó ver. Sabía que como ciego le faltaba mucho de la vida. Si había sido ciego de nacimiento, es probable que la sociedad presumiera que era un pecador significativo por el cual Dios lo había cegado a propósito. Y, debido a su ceguera, se habría visto reducido a mendigar, y posiblemente nunca se le habría permitido contraer matrimonio para ser privado de una familia como otros creyentes “sanos” como castigo por su presunta pecaminosidad. La ceguera era una carga grave y grave en la antigüedad tiempos en la cultura judía. Bartimeo no se presume que sea un héroe en este episodio. Pero, su fe en Jesús como "Hijo de David" fue lo que revela que merece ser visto. La vista aquí es el poderoso don que Jesús le dio, pero también es una metáfora de lo que Jesús y su mensaje del Evangelio ofrecen a todos los que abrazan el Evangelio. Nadie puede apreciarlo completamente hasta que el poder de Dios lo permita. De hecho, Jesús a menudo suena como si fuera la voluntad de Dios que fuera la voluntad y el deseo de Dios que cada persona humana tenga el don de Dios de la vista y la vida. En la narrativa del Evangelio de Marcos, esta historia de la vista de Bartimeo marca el final de los tres capítulos intermedios que comienzan con Jesús, que también le da la vista a un hombre ciego y que incluye tres predicciones de su propia pasión, muerte y resurrección. La estrategia literaria de Mark insinúa que solo aquellos que abrazan el papel cristológico de Jesús como el Mesías que sufriría y daría su vida Y que también abrazan su Evangelio del Reino de Dios, realmente podrían ver (entender “apreciar completamente”) el La vida que Dios ofrece a todos.
THANK YOU TO OUR PARISH SECRETARY!

Our beloved Parish Secretary, Denise Kahn-Decena, will be retiring at the end of this month. Denise has been a member of our pastoral team for the past 14 years. Spending the last decade-plus working for different pastors, priests, registering new parishioners, drafting the weekly bulletin, and tending to the proverbial "paper chase", the thousands of sandwiches provided to guests who come to our door, made by our St. Vincent De Paul Society, all the things one would expect at the front desk of our city Parish. Denise, Congratulations, may you have a relaxing new chapter ahead. Thank you for your years of service to Mission Dolores Basilica. We will miss you and wish you the best in your retirement. We keep you in our prayers and may God bless you always.

THE MONTH OF THE HOLY ROSARY

The rosary was given to St. Dominic founder of the order of Preachers. St. Dominic used the rosary to teach uneducated people who could not read, in a manner similar to bible stories portrayed in stain glass windows. In the 15th century when the Turkish navy attached Italy at Lepanto and towns people gathered at the shore and prayed the rosary for their deliverance and the Turkish navy was defeated that is when the feast of the Holy Rosary was added to our calendar. Please pray the Rosary for your needs, parish needs, and the needs of the Holy Father.
