THE REVOLUTION OF GOD'S KINGDOM

After hearing the Gospel of St. Luke, we can imagine the scene: It's Saturday and Jesus solemnly recites the Scripture from the prophet Isaiah: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because the Lord has anointed me; He has sent me to announce a joyful message to the poor, to proclaim freedom to prisoners, to give sight to the blind." His movements are slow and stately, as is customary in the synagogue, to express respect for the Word of God. He later states: "Today this Scripture is fulfilled.

Dear brothers and sisters:

1. Jesus begins his mission by announcing the coming of a new Kingdom. In a world full of evil and selfishness, He begins to quietly spread the revolution of love and forgiveness. Jesus had little time to announce His Gospel. In the world, there were many that were poor, sick, desperate, and weak, yet He says, "It is fulfilled today." He also thought of us, since we can say, "It is true today." Every time a poor soul receives the Good News, or a sinner is forgiven, or the sick are healed, or a servant is dignified, or a small step is taken to advance freedom, justice, or peace - then the Kingdom is being established here on earth; however, we cannot forget that this Kingdom is of God. It is His grace. It is our salvation.

2. Jesus preached a Kingdom of holiness and of love, but also of freedom and justice; a Kingdom He chooses to build in the heart of man. This is where the first spark, for the true revolution of the world, is ignited. Only Christ is capable of responding to the great problems of humanity: The politicians, with their treaties and diplomacy have never managed to restore peace to their countries that are agonizing; nor have radio and television campaigns been able to reduce hunger for the underdeveloped. The world's injustices, as seen in the work place, and in the marginalization of the sick and elderly, are not resolved with street demonstrations. The true salvation of mankind will be found in Jesus and through Jesus.

3. Every time we gather to celebrate the Eucharist, we proclaim and celebrate the Good News of our salvation. Our meeting is like the one in Nazareth. We also hear the reading of the Word of God, the gospel is also explained, and we too celebrate with joy - the action of Grace. Proclaiming the Word and celebrating the Eucharist is the best news there is for our world, though it often does not appear so. How can it appear to be "Good News", if we go to Mass out of obligation or if we are often late? We should truly believe that Christ Himself is present, as He was two thousand years ago in Nazareth. Then we will change, as we proclaim the Good News - with joy.

We should leave after Mass, repeating the same words as Jesus, "Today this Scripture is fulfilled in my life." Our parents always repeated, in good times and bad: "Let God's Will be done!" Nothing happens that is not His will. Have we learned to recognize His will in all? Do not forget that our families would be more harmonious; our work would flow easier; our society would be more just; and the parish community would be more fervent, if every day we would light up with the Gospel message - with the great challenge of building a world of peace and progress - a world of values and faithfulness. That is the Kingdom of God. https://www.epriest.com/

LA REVOLUCIÓN DEL REINO

Después de escuchar el evangelio de San Lucas podemos imaginar la escena: Es sábado. Jesús recita solemnemente el canto del profeta Isaías: "El Espíritu del Señor está sobre mí por eso me ha ungido y me ha mandado para anunciar a los pobres un alegre mensaje, para proclamar a los prisioneros la libertad, para dar a los ciegos la vista". Sus gestos son lentos y majestuosos como se acostumbra en la sinagoga para manifestar el respeto hacia la Palabra de Dios: Después comentó: "Hoy se cumple esta Escritura".

Queridos hermanos y hermanas:

1. Jesús da inicio a su misión anunciando la venida de un nuevo Reino. En un mundo lleno de maldad y de egoísmo empieza a propagarse silenciosamente la revolución del amor y del perdón. Jesús tuvo poco tiempo para anunciar su Evangelio. En el mundo habría muchos más pobres, enfermos, desesperados, débiles y, sin embargo, nos dice: "se cumple hoy". Pensaba en nosotros porque también hoy podemos decir: "se cumple hoy". Cada vez que algún pobre recibe la buena noticia, o un pecador el perdón, o un enfermo la curación o la asistencia digna, se da un pequeño paso en el avance de la libertad, de la justicia o de la paz, se va estableciendo el Reino ya aquí en la tierra; aunque no debemos olvidar que es de Dios. Es gracia. Es salvación.

2. Jesús predica un Reino de santidad y de amor, pero también de libertad y de justicia y elige construirllo en el corazón del hombre. Es allí donde se enciende la primera chispa de la verdadera revolución del mundo. Solamente Cristo es capaz de dar respuesta a los grandes problemas de la humanidad: Los políticos, con sus tratados y su diplomacia nunca han conseguido devolver la paz a los países que agonizan; las campañas de la radio o la televisión no han sido capaces de disminuir el hambre de los pueblos subdesarrollados. Las injusticias en el mundo del trabajo y la marginación de los enfermos y ancianos no se resuelven con manifestaciones callejeras. La verdadera salvación del hombre será con Jesús y en Jesús.

3. Cada vez que nosotros nos reúnamos para celebrar la Eucaristía anunciamos y celebramos la buena noticia de la salvación. Nuestro encuentro se parece a aquel de Nazaret. También nosotros escuchamos la lectura de la Palabra de Dios, también la explicamos y también celebramos con alegría la acción de gracias. Anunciar la Palabra y celebrar la Eucaristía es la mejor noticia para nuestro mundo, pero muchas veces no lo parece. ¿Cómo puede parecerlo si venimos como obligados, si a menudo llegamos tarde? Deberíamos creer que Cristo en persona está aquí como estaba hace dos mil años en Nazaret. Entonces cambiaría nuestro rostro y lo proclamaríamos con una alegría gozosa.

Salgamos de esta Misa repitiendo con Jesús: "Esta Escritura se cumple hoy en mi vida". Nuestros padres repetían siempre, en las buenas y en las malas: ": Que se haga la Voluntad de Dios!" Nada ocurre sin que él lo quiera. ¿Hemos aprendido a reconocerlo en todo? No olvidemos que nuestra familia será más armoniosa, el trabajo más llevadero, la sociedad más justa, la comunidad parroquial más fervorosa, si cada día iluminamos con el mensaje del Evangelio el gran desafío de construir un mundo de paz y de progreso; un mundo de valores y de religiosidad. Eso es el Reino de Dios. https://www.epriest.com/
